

New Farnam Purishield wound care line delivers revolutionary wound protection.

Accidents can happen to even the most protected horses, and at times when you least expect it. When injuries occur, make sure your horse has the protection of Farnam's new PuriShield™ wound care products.

PuriShield is the only complete wound care line exclusively formulated with patented Purifect® Technology. University-developed, Purifect Technology supports the body's naturally occurring immune response to help your horse heal his wounds.

With four different product options, PuriShield wound care has a solution for your every need.

PuriShield™ Wound Spray – veterinarian recommended efficacious first aid spray

PuriShield™ Skin Spray – effective, one-stop solution for topical skin irritations

PuriShield™ Barrier Spray – revolutionary, invisible liquid bandage protects wounds in hard-to-bandage areas

PuriShield™ Hydrogel – thick, gel form of the PuriShield™ Wound Spray clings to uneven surfaces to stay in place longer

Each product fills a unique niche in your wound care arsenal. Whether you're treating a minor cut, laceration, open wound or skin irritation, you can count on PuriShield products to aid in wound cleansing, support normal tissue regeneration and protect against germs, dirt, debris, water and insects.

Unlike some other wound care products, the PuriShield line does not contain steroids, antibiotics, alcohol or harsh chlorine, so there's no stinging, irritation or damage to live, healthy or injured tissue. PuriShield products can also be used on other animals, such as cattle, dogs and cats.
